Selecting the right size

With plenty of sizes to choose from, it's important to get the measurements right. To do this you'll need to know the width of your curtain track or window, and the required drop length.

Width: Measure the width of your existing curtain track or window width. If measuring window width only, add 20cm to each side for the curtain to clear the window when pulled back.

Length: Measure from the top of the curtain track or appropriate start point on the window architrave down to the bottom point you want to cover. This will be your drop length.

Once you have measured up, refer to the pricing grid above to choose the size closest to your measurements. There is the option to request an un-hemmed curtain if your drop length falls between sizes. You can then hem this yourself to the exact length.

Additional Options

- Single curtains may be purchased by ordering a half pair, for half the price.
- If you require a non-standard drop length, order un-hemmed curtains by ticking the 'un-hemmed' box in the order form. You can then hem your curtains to suit. The Pick-a-Size standard hem allowance is approximately 6cm.
