HANDY HINTS

TUNNEL SHEDS

If you are buying a shed where both the front and the side walls are the same size, and you choose a second door, you can install this door in the opposite wall to the primary door. What you have created is a tunnel shed. Tunnel sheds are great to put down the side of the house. You can then get access to your stuff from both the front and the back yards. If you want an oblong tunnel shed ask your team member for assistance to order.

GETTING TWICE THE VALUE.

Consider designing your shed to have a side door. If you put a free standing shelf unit immediately behind the side door, you have created a really handy outdoor cupboard. You can store small items on the shelves and you have access to them from either inside or outside the shed.

MAKE LIFE EASY.

If you have a long thin shed where the entry is from the end. Consider putting a second door in the longer side of the shed. This will allow you to get to things at the back of the shed without having to unload the stuff at the front.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

CAN THE END DOOR OF A SHED BE MOVED TO THE OTHER END?

Yes - you can install the end door in either end of the shed.

CAN I PUT A SHED ON THE BARE GROUND?

Yes - you can peg you shed down with heavy duty tent pegs in low wind areas.

CAN I MAKE THE ROOF OF A SKILLION SHED SLOPE IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION?

Yes - you can choose the way your skillion roof slopes at the time of the build.

DO YOU HAVE WINDOW OR SKYLIGHT OPTIONS?

No we do not currently offer these options. Doors normally allow sufficient light in sheds up to 3x3 in size.
